Summary in English

Remmedia is a rental company for telephone numbers, toll-free numbers and premium rate numbers among others.
Remmedia is one of the main clients of Stit Consulting the company of my work-study which makes this project, my main project.

The back office was already in place, it was functional when I arrived at Stit Consulting, it used FileMaker software.

FileMaker is database management software.
It is a backOffice that allows to administer third parties or companies and manages all the information relating to them such as addresses, contacts, consumption data, invoices, payments etc ...

This backoffice also allows to manage the assigned numbers and the available numbers.

Philippe STORA, CEO / CTO of STIT Consulting is my tutor during my work-study program.
Philippe Stora wanted to overhaul the existing back office.
He wanted to stop using FileMaker but to run the back office using a REST API.
So he asked me to act mainly on the Customer part.
